Dear Judge McLaughlin,

My name is Vadem Naginsky. I own a moving company in the Northeast Philadelphia. I have known Andrew for the past 8 years. I met him when I started advertising with Russian Yellow Pages, which his company publishes. Although we originally met on a business matter, through the years our relationship developed into a friendly one.

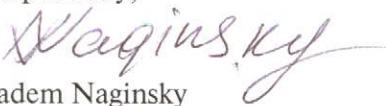

Years ago, when I just opened my own business, I turned to Russian Yellow Pages to advertise my services in the local community. Andrew sincerely wanted to help me build my business. He offered me an advertisement package tailored specifically for the needs of my new business. It gave me the opportunity to attract clients and grow my business in a cost-conscious way. I would not been able to grow my business otherwise, if I could not find clients without a heavy investment in advertising. I have advertised with Russian Yellow Pages since then, and now, when my business is solid, I am grateful to Andrew for helping it happen.

In the years that I have known Andrew, we have come to be good friends. I helped Andrew and his wife with their move to a new house, and I also helped move Russian Yellow Pages office to a new location. On numerous occasions I have observed Andrew interact with his family and his employees. Based on my experience, I can confidently say that Andrew is one of the most caring and considerate people I know, in his relationship with family, friends and co-workers.

Because of the nature of my business as a moving company, I know many people in our community. Everyone who knows Andrew thinks very highly of him. During his life, he has done a lot of good to people and touched lives of many people, through his community ties, his charity work and his business. He is one of the most respected people in our community. I can assure you that our community stands by Andrew in these difficult times, supporting and praying for him.

Your Honor, I hope my letter helps you to better understand that Andrew Mogilyansky is a wonderful person who has done many good deeds in his life. I would like to respectfully ask for your leniency with him.

Respectfully,

Vadem Naginsky
