Dear Judge McLaughlin,

My name is Roman Vengrenyuk and I am a Finance Analyst currently working at BBU Inc. I have worked in the financial field for over 4 years after graduating from Drexel University. I have had the pleasure of knowing Andrew Mogilyansky and his family for over 6 years. Natalia, who is Andrew's sister-in-law and I studied together at Drexel.

Throughout the years that I have known Andrew and his wife Oksana, I have had a chance to observe many beneficial contributions Andrew has made to the community. I personally witnessed Andrew's tireless efforts and achievements in helping others. As a founder and chairman of International Foundation for Terror Act Victims, Andrew was able to bring from Russia many children who were hostages in Beslan's school shooting so they could get medical treatment as well as complicated medical surgeries that they needed. Many of these children from Beslan stayed with their families at Andrew's house, and I had a chance to meet some of them. One girl that I met came from Beslan with her mother and had a successful eye implant surgery done, thanks to Andrew. And I remember how thankful they both were to Andrew and his wife for all their help and hospitality – understandably, it meant a world to them.

I also know Andrew as a caring husband and a father, who would spend sleepless nights with his newborns. Andrew is admired by his wife's sister Natalia and their parents.

Your Honor, I do believe that Andrew's personal and community achievements are praiseworthy and exemplary in so many instances. Therefore, I ask for the lenience when considering his sentence. Thank you very much for your time and consideration.

Respectfully,

Roman Vengrenyuk
